Note for parents and carers:

Verbs are 'doing' words, which show action of some sort. Suffixes change the verb's function within a sentence or its tense. The suffix 'ing' shows an action is continuous, e.g. walking, watching. The suffix 'ed' changes a verb to the past tense e.g. 'walked', 'watched'. The past tense suffix 'ed' can be tricky for children, as it is often pronounced as a 't' sound (e.g. walked). Many verbs change their spelling when a suffix is added, but at Year 1 children are taught about those that do not change.
